Building a foundation for business growth with ActionCOACH....

Once Eric found ActionCOACH's philosophies about helping people succeed paralleled with his own philosophies, he knew he had found the right person to help him build his business.

"I was gung-ho and excited to start my coaching program," said Eric.

Eric's initial goal was to learn how to present and sell his services. He also wanted help with generating leads.

"Andy made me slow down and develop a mission and vision statement. Slowing down to speed up and build a solid business plan." Eric said "After going through the process, building foundation to support my business, it has proven to be very successful."

Andy has been helping Eric grow his business since the beginning of 2012. Andy and Eric continue to talk on a regular basis.

Almost everyone has too much to do today, but when does enough become too much?

This is where Eric Levenhagen, owner of ProWise Tax & Accounting, found himself after he made the leap to start his business full time.

"I thought I could do more on my own than I really could." Eric said.

Eric knew that business consulting was an option, but the concept of a business coach was new to him.

Eric started with group coaching first through ActionCLUB and other various workshops. Then about a year later he decided to hire O'Brien on an individual basis.

Eric's advice to other business owners is "If you are struggling to get to the next level in your business, you need to have a coach help you. It is a lot of work because Andy won't hand you anything on a silver platter, but it is worth it."

So if you find yourself in the same situation as Eric or if you're facing obstacles in your business that you have not been able to overcome, reach out to your local ActionCOACH Business Coach, Andy O'Brien. He can help you start growing your business.
